

Flooded Engine

- Press the gas pedal to the floor and hold it down.
- Turn the key in the ignition and keep it there for short intervals (10-15 seconds).
- When the engine starts, release the gas pedal.
- Do not pump the gas pedal; it will make the flooding worse.

Disabled Vehicle

- Get all four wheels off the roadway, if possible.
- Turn on the parking lights or emergency flashing lights and, if available, set out flares, blinking red lights or a reflective triangle.
- Tie a handkerchief or white cloth to the radio antenna or to the left door handle and/or raise the hood.

Right-of-Way

Laws govern the right-of-way, but never put these laws ahead of safety. The right-of-way means the right of one vehicle or pedestrian to proceed in a lawful manner on a highway in preference to another vehicle or pedestrian. If you have the right-of-way and others yield it to you, proceed immediately.

- You must, of course, obey stop signs; yield signs and traffic signals at intersections.
- If you enter the intersection after another vehicle, you must yield the right-of-way.
- If you are about to turn left at an intersection or into an alley, private road or driveway, you must yield the right-of-way to other pedestrians and vehicles until it is safe to turn.
- If you are entering a public street or highway from a private road or driveway, you must stop and yield to all approaching vehicles and pedestrians.
- If a traffic light turns green for you, you must still yield to pedestrians and vehicles in the intersection. Be on the lookout for red light runners.
